In this age of relativism, we are often told things like “It doesn’t matter what you believe, as long as you are sincere about it.” Other statements that go along with this are “All roads lead to heaven.” and “It doesn’t matter what you do as long as it doesn’t hurt anybody.” All of these ideas reject the notion of absolute truth and encourage their adherents to go down the path of discovering their own truth. In this arena, faith is a matter of our own choosing, not whether something is right or wrong.

But the Bible teaches us that faith is only as good as the object of our faith. For example, if a person were to stand at the top of a tall skyscraper and believe that he could jump and fly to safety, he would be wrong. But what if his faith in his ability was sincere? What if he really believed that he could jump and safely land? No matter how sincere his beliefs, the outcome would be the same. The law of gravity would kick in and he would soon discover that he was sincerely wrong! It follows that when it comes to faith, the important thing is putting our faith in the right object.

Strong faith in the wrong object brings us to disaster. But faith, even a comparatively weak faith in a strong object can do a lot. There are not many ways to heaven. There is only one provided by God who knows that without Him we are without hope. In John 14:6 Jesus said “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me.” Jesus went to the cross and took the judgment and wrath of God against sin to rescue us from an eternity apart from God. If there were other ways to get to heaven, Jesus would not have had to go to the cross.

This Thanksgiving, I am thankful that God has provided the only way for us to be forgiven in Jesus and that He has revealed that way in His Holy Word. I am thankful for revealed truth which makes all the difference.

Jesus is Lord,
Jeff
